

FOREWORD

CHRISTIAN S. HANS PH.D.***

I felt a brief introduction is necessary for Issue 2. Historically, this journal has focused on intellectual property, having changed names various times from IDEA: The Journal of Law and Technology to IDEA: The Intellectual Property Law Review to our most recent title IDEA: The Journal of the Franklin Pierce Center for Intellectual Property.

The Franklin Pierce Center for Intellectual Property is a center at the University of New Hampshire School of Law (formerly the Franklin Pierce Law Center) in Concord, New Hampshire. Many of us who passed through this school had the opportunity to take the 1L Property Law or Constitutional Law classes with Professor Calvin Massey. I personally took both courses with Professor Massey, in what would be his last semester teaching.

As intellectual Property relies on both Constitutional and Property rights, Professor Massey's work is foundational to intellectual property. Although, Professor Massey did not write about intellectual property, I believe including an annotated bibliography of his work was important to show his influence on courts and academia.

Professor Massey will be missed greatly for many people, including myself and other editors of this journal. I only hope that the inclusion of this article increases awareness of Professor Massey and the important topics, about which he cared.

---

* Editor-in-Chief, IDEA Vol. 57; J.D. Candidate, University of New Hampshire School of Law; Ph.D., Purdue University; B.S., Texas A&M University.

